FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

The stock market has been on the whole weak and ensettled to-day, and the indications are that there vill soon be a heavy downfall in prices for all the peculative railway shares. Six and eight per cent-tocks like New York Central and Hudson River must all below par before they can rest on a solid foundaion, and non-dividend paying ones like Michigan Southern and Eric must sink in proportion before the utside public will venture to buy them either n speculation or for investment. Stocks of one man must come down by the force of neces-sity to their legitimate level, and if they do so with sh some day, as they are likely to do, the bull liques and other professional speculators for a rise vill be about the only sufferers, for the outside public has already prudently deserted the Stock Ex-change. The litigation in Rock Island and Eric has far seeing investors anxious to sell out their railway slocks for very good reasons; but these have not yet become fully apparent even to the keenest men in Wall street. The whole rotten, and the monopoly aimed at by the Vanderoilt party, if achieved, would only tend to increase its rottenness; but as monopoly is intolerable to the people, its ultimate defeat may be accepted as cer-tain. The depression which overtook railway property in England and France after the termination of our war is more than likely to be experienced here, all the signs of the times being favorable thereto; and as Sir Morton Peto failed, like Hudson, the rallway king, before him, so the rallway nagnates of our own country, whose wealth in the stocks of the railways they control, will be likely to succumb to the storm that is brewing, and the prostration will, in all probability, be fully as great as it was and still is in the ountries we have named, where railway stocks which three or four years ago were considered just as safe and thrice as profitable as British consols are w almost without market value, the companies being heavily in debt and unable to pay dividends. The revelations made in the course of the Erie litition have opened the eyes of the people to the great fact that railway shares have been enormously inflated since the paper money began, and that they are not worth anything like what they are now selling for. In view of the impending crash, therefore, we warn the banks to prepare for it by reducing their loans on speculative stocks, their condition at present with respect to these being a very dangerous one. heavy and speedy decline in the other speculative ocks, and the cliques that attempt to resist the owever great their own or their leader's resources may be. On another occasion we shall detail the extent of the decline in railway shares in England and France since the end of 1865, and this will serve as a guide to what we may expect here. -

Money was in good demand at seven per cent from the Stock Exchange, and the supply was so far limited as to give rise to complaints of stringency in me quarters. Lenders are going over their outstanding loans and sifting out the unsatisfactory collaterals as well as calling up wider margins than sual, while in making new loans only first class curities are accepted. This is owing to a well ounded distrust of the present market values and apprehensions that the break in Atlantic Mail may prove the precursor of a similar collapse in the gh priced railway shares like New York Central, on River and Erie. However abundant the of money might be, therefore, this distrust be unabated while the present causes for it tisted. The flow of currency from the interior m this time forward will gradually swell the the collaterals, the margins and the borrowers are satisfactory it is fair to presume that there will be no difficulty experienced in borrowing at the legal rate. Many of the stocks upon which the banks een free lenders on small margins are unfit to be held by them as collaterals owing to their un-certain value, and the national banking system will fall to give proper security to depositors if it per-mits bank officers to jeopardize the funds of their respective institutions by lending on them any longer. Yet there is good reason to believe that the banks of this city are now such large holders of the de loans that in the event of a panic they would and, therefore, they would become their virtual owners, in many instances, through the inability of the Government securities were firm at the commence ment of business, but subsequently they declined 3/4 a 3/4 from the highest point, and during the remainder of the day were steady. The preference of enders for these securities makes it easy to borrow on them, and public confidence in them will not be impaired by the demoralization of the railway Stock Exchange. Indeed, capital is likely to be diverted in their favor from the inflated "fancies." At the close the quotations were as subjoined: Registered, 1881, 111¾ a 112; coupon, 1881, 111¾ a 111%; 5-20's, registered, 1862, 104% a 104%; 5-20's, coupon, 1862, 110¼ a 110¾; do., 1864, 108¾ a 109¾; do., 1865, 109 a 100 %; do., 1865, January and July, 107% a 107%; do., 1867, 107% a 107%; 10-40's, registered, 101% a 101%; 10-40's, coupon, 101% a 101%; June 7.30's, 106% a 106%; July 7.30's, 106% a 106%; May compounds, 1864, 11814; August do., 11714; September do., 117; October do., 11614.

The gold market was strong throughout the day, and the fluctuations were from 138% to 139, with the closing transactions at 138%. currency balances to $2,401,806.

The stock market opened weak, and Erie sold at 68% and Hudson River at 126, against 136 on Saturday. At the first regular board railway shares were % a 2% lower than at the same time on Saturday; but Atlantic Mail and Pacific Mail were 3% a 3% higher. At the open board at half-past three the market was weak again, and Erie sold at 68% and New York Central at 116%. The capital stock in 1864 was $24,636,000 and the funded and floating debt $13,263,909, making a total of $38,096,309, while the earnings were $12,997,889 and the expenses $9,431,143, showing the net carnings to have been $3,566,746. Deducting interest, rents and sinking fund, the dividend fund was $2,267,793. The dividend rate was 9 per cent, the percentage of expenses 72% and the percentage of net earnings 2714. Upon these figures the writer of the pamphlet remarks:-

the pamphlet remarks:—

The dividends paid have not only fallen off from 9 to 6 per cent, but the capital of the company has increased in the meantime $2,500,914 for expenditures, which should have come mainly from carnings. The 6 per cent dividends have been paid with great difficulty. The truth is that the backbone of the Central was broken some ten years ago by an operation which Mr. Vanderbilt is now seeking to repeat. Upon the consolidation of this road a bonus dividend was made in the company's bonds to the amount of $10,000,000. The actual cost of the road at the present time is reported by the company at only $36,504,000, of which $2,000,000 was added last year by the purchase of the Athens Branch. The programme now is to carry the capital account of the road up to $50,000,000, without the addition of a dollar to its cost or its capacity to earn.

The earnings and expenses of the Eric Company

The earnings and expenses of the Erie Company for the last three years are thus stated:-

Net earnings. $3,891,992 $3,066,808 Ratio of ex-penses to earnings... 76.03 79 The earnings in 1864 were $13,429,643 and the expenses $9,630,688, showing the net earnings to have been $3,798,995, while the ratio of expenses to earnings were 72.50. The present capital account of the Eric Company is made up as follows:—

to secure a monopoly of the railway system of the country, the New York Central, the Hudson River, the Harlem and the Cleveland and Toledo being already in its grasp, the writer goes on to say:—

But the schemes of Mr. Vanderbilt and his party are vain without possession of the Erie. The tariif of charges necessary to make the Hudson River, Harlem and Central pay upon their enlarged capital can never be levied with a competing road beyond their control. Hence the desperate efforts now made to grasp it. The public are sundiciently informed as to the efforts made by the Vanderbilt party on the one side and the Drew party on the other. We do not propose to discuss the merits of the contest as far as they have any personal bearing, but only as they relate to the welfare of New York. We know that it is not for the interest of this city that all the great avenues entering it should be under the control of one man or of one set of men. We trust, therefore, that the Drew party will be able to maintain Erie as an independent line. This is all really that the public care for. Such a result secured, Drew and Vanderbilt may fight out their battlesto their hearts' content. the Harlem and the Cleveland and Toledo being of this city; and its recent memorial to the Legisla ture, in which it protested against the virtual conother New York lines, embodied public sentiment on the subject.
